How to make a web page print well: good, better, best.

Brennen Puth hit Ctrl-P on his own blog and got oversized text and gray links.

Fixing it took him a morning of CSS.

Each level builds on the last.

Which level is your site at? Save this.

- Good: just Ctrl-P. The nav and gray links print too.
- Better: @media print. Black links, but code blocks split.
- Best: add page-break rules. Backgrounds still drop.
